“SANCTIFY THEM THROUGH THY TRUTH: THY WORD IS TRUTH” JOHN 17:17

Christ May Dwell in Your Hearts

Heirs of the Kingdom of God The Review and Herald, October 1, 1889

"For this cause I bow my knees unto the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, of whom the whole family in heaven and earth is named, that he would grant you, according to the riches of his glory, to be strengthened with might by his Spirit in the inner man; that Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith; that ye, being rooted and grounded in love, may be able to comprehend with all saints what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and height; and to know the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge, that ye might be filled with all the fullness of God.' Ephesians 3:14-19.

"How can we harmonize our dwarfed spiritual condition with the presentation of our text that describes the fullness of knowledge it is our privilege to possess? How can Heaven look upon us, who have had every spiritual and temporal advantage that we might grow in grace, when we have not improved our opportunities? The apostle did not write these words to tantalize us, to deceive us, or to raise our expectations only to have them disappointed in our experience. He wrote these words to show us what we may and must be, if we would be heirs of the kingdom of God. How can we be laborers together with God, if we have a dwarfed experience? We have a knowledge of the Christian's privilege, and should seek for that deep, spiritual understanding in the things of God that the Lord has desired us to have.

"Do we really believe the Bible? Do we really believe that we may attain to the knowledge of God that is presented before us in this text? Do we believe every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God? Do we believe the words that have been spoken by prophets and apostles, by Jesus Christ, who is the author of all light and blessing, and in whom dwelleth all richness and fullness? Do we really believe in God, and in his Son?

"There are many who have a merely nominal faith, but this faith will not save you. Many believe in Christ because somebody else does, because the minister has told them this or that; but if you rest your faith only on the minister's word, you will be lost. You must not do as did the foolish virgins, who, when the cry came, 'Behold, the bridegroom cometh,' found no oil in their vessels. When they discovered their lack, they sought those who were wise, and applied to them for oil for their dying lights; but it was too late to supply them. The wise had only enough for their own use, and they told the foolish virgins they must go and buy oil for themselves. We all must buy oil for

MISSION STATEMENT

The ministry of Future for America is to proclaim the final warning message of Revelation 14 as identified by the prophecies of the Bible and the Spirit of Prophecy. The end-time fulfillment of Bible prophecy is no longer future—for it is taking place before our eyes. The historic, prophetic understanding of Seventh-day Adventism is now present truth. We are the final generation. Our emphasis is on the prophetic word including all the counsel of God's Word. To know what lies ahead is useless if we do not possess the experience to stand during these solemn times. Through obedience to God's law, and faith in the promises of God's Word, we are to receive that experience.

Coupled with the prophetic message, Future for America emphasizes all aspects of the medical missionary work. The "entering wedge"—medical missionary work—must be practiced by those who are to finish God's work in these final hours.

During this time period, country living becomes more essential with each passing moment. Future for America upholds and promotes this end-time truth. God's people must prepare for the coming storm, and that preparation includes the experience of learning how to survive in a simple fashion, away from the great centers of population.

ourselves. We must not be content with a mere profession. We are to take a stand for the truth by profession, and the principles of truth must become a part of our life.

"There are many who know nothing of the new birth. They do not know that the truth will test them, and make manifest whether they really are in the truth or not. We should see to it that we are not deceived. We should know that we are really rooted and grounded in the truth. The Lord wants us to have the fullness of his blessing, that we may not be on the side of the questioner and the doubter, but have spiritual discernment, and be able to know the voice of the True Shepherd from the voice of a stranger. We must have an individual experience. Do not flatter yourselves that because you have made a high profession, you are the light of the world. The question is, 'Are you the light of the world, or are you the darkness of the world?'"

2015 UPDATE

By T. Sena

School of the Prophets has been very busy these past few months! We have been working on a variety of projects, which include:

1. Completing a septic system for the eventual use of the main school building
2. Finishing the school greenhouse, as well as subsequent planting and any required maintenance
3. Setting up a utility shed on campus, then organizing the interior for greenhouse needs
4. Installing a new metal roof for the current staff housing
5. Renovating an older style storm shelter
6. Designing a composting system for the school garden, orchard, and greenhouse

These projects have had students, staff, and volunteers working together towards their completion. This has allowed the students to gain a practical knowledge of construction and garden maintenance.

Concurrently, Future for America has been holding meetings in a variety of locations, sometimes bringing along students of School of the Prophets to assist in the work. Doing so has allowed the students to have first-hand experience in missionary work and working with God's remnant people at the end of the world. Future for America plans to continue bringing students on these trips to further develop their skills to become teachers of Present Truth. Some of the places Future for America plans to visit in the coming months include: Brazil, Africa, Canada, Europe, Australia, and parts of the United States. Our travel itinerary can be found at www.futureforamerica.org.

School of the Prophets continues to hold a daily prophecy class taught by Brother Pippenger. These classes have been a tremendous blessing to the students, staff, volunteers, and guests that have been attending. We encourage everyone to follow along at: www.youtube.com/user/arsotp. You may also visit www.sotpar.org and find these videos on our "Resources" page. ## LABORING FOR THE LORD

An E-mail Response

By M. Chapman

Brother- The best way that I can provide advice is to shortly tell you the way that the Lord has led me. About two years ago I came into contact with this message. At this point in time I had just dropped out of college and moved home with my parents; I was planning on pursuing another path besides the one which the University leads to. It was my objective to search out wisdom; I wanted to know the truth. Early in my endeavors I decided to read the Bible (though I treated it much like the writings of the ancient Greek philosophers). I began in Proverbs because I had always heard of the wisdom of Solomon and, being that wisdom was my aim, I figured he was worthy of some attention (a very worldly mindset, yet the Lord is merciful!). I soon realized that this little book could not have been composed by man alone; it bore the signet of the Divine. This realization led me to many reforms and much searching of heart (things which I hope to never cease doing).

As I scoured the pages of Holy Writ I too came to passages which convicted me of my duty to serve. I prayed for the Lord's guidance; that He might make known to me what I must do and where I must go. It was around this time that He opened to me the wonderful truths of this message by introducing me to the brethren. Shortly after this, I was told about the School of the Prophets that was opening in Arkansas. Here was the answer to my prayers. I prayed fervently for the Lord to show me His will in this matter, for I did not want to make the wrong decision. I was then convicted that I must "set out" a fleece. As you might be able to tell, the Lord answered my prayers. He showed me clearly that I should go to Arkansas, so "here am I."

There is obviously much detail left out of this abridged version my story, but suffice it to say, I believe that the Lord has lead me to a place of great light where I can be developed into what I must be to serve our God in these last days.

Sister White says what I mean to say much better than I ever could:

"Those who would now help souls destitute of wisdom, sanctification, and righteousness, must themselves have on the whole armor of Christ's righteousness; for we can never lead the people to an experience of which we are not partakers. Those who have not tasted of the rich blessing of God will make little of the blessings that others have received. The light which God is giving to His people may be slighted, refused, rejected, but it is thus treated at great peril to men's souls. Brethren, God is working for us, and I feel deeply in earnest that not one ray of heaven-sent light may be regarded with indifference. God's communication to man is to be appreciated and cherished. If we do not appreciate the light of heaven, it will be our condemnation; our position will be similar to that of the Jews when they rejected the Lord of life and glory." Sermons and Talks, 90.

Jesus says,

"Sanctify them through thy truth: thy word is truth," and "And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." (John 17:17; 8:32)

It is my personal conviction that the Word, as it is studied at the School of the Prophets, will set my wretched soul free from the bondage of sin. This school has been a blessing to my soul and I pray that many others have this experience as well.

Therefore brother, to answer your question: the best way that you can serve the Lord is to let the Word of God do a work in your soul that will fit you for the high calling He has called you to. If you believe that the Lord is calling, then I would invite you to attend this institution and join me and the brethren in our pursuits to becoming all that we can in the name and for the sake of our dear Savior.

May God Bless You!

TRUMPET PROTOCOLS

By G. Seaman

The Holy Bible provides an instruction set for the employment of trumpets. As with any other word, obtaining an appropriate understanding of the word "trumpet," along with all of its associated connotations throughout the scriptures, becomes indispensable to prophetic interpretation.

Bible students who follow the guidance of the Holy Spirit will rightly divide Scripture by taking time to trace the subject of "trumpets" throughout the entire Word of God. Those who do so must bring all Scripture on the subject together, while allowing every word to have its proper bearing on the subject—for not one jot nor one tittle lacks significance in Holy Writ. Furthermore, they must determine how the word (in this case, “trumpet”) applies to prophecy via a thorough understanding of the context which the word finds itself in, as well as the other prophetic symbols with which it associates itself.

This brief study directs the spotlight to one crucial aspect of the subject of trumpets by focusing only on Numbers 10 as it relates to the books of Joel and Zephaniah.

Numbers 10 provides us with an instruction set on the use of trumpets in the Bible. This chapter sets the standard for the manner in which ancient Israel employed the trumpet sound whenever necessary during their time. This chapter also easily clarifies the context of the word “trumpet” as it appears in Joel 2 and Zephaniah 1. The passage in Numbers 10:1-3 explains the general purpose trumpets and how they are constructed. Specific instructions commence with verse 4.

And if they blow but with one trumpet, then the princes, which are heads of the thousands of Israel, shall gather themselves unto thee. When ye blow an alarm, then the camps that lie on the east parts shall go forward. When ye blow an alarm the second time, then the camps that lie on the south side shall take their journey: they shall blow an alarm for their journeys. But when the congregation is to be gathered together, ye shall blow, but ye shall not sound an alarm. Numbers 10:4-7.

Upon examining these verses, the student finds the following parameters regarding trumpets:

1. Blowing only one trumpet, with no sound for alarm, calls for only the heads of Israel to gather.
2. Blowing only one sound for alarm cues the camps on the east to go forward.
3. Blowing two sounds for alarm cues the camps on the south.
4. Calling the congregation together requires that no sound for alarm emanates from the trumpets.

Numbers 10 continues to explain the usage of trumpets in verses 8-10. Verse 9 happens to contain the contextual specifications most critical to accurately interpret the prophetic subject material in Joel 2 and Zephaniah 1.

And if ye go to war in your land against the enemy that oppresseth you, then ye shall blow an alarm with the trumpets; and ye shall be remembered before the Lord your God, and ye shall be saved from your enemies. Numbers 10:9.

The instructions found in verse 9 command for the trumpets to be blown with the sound of alarm during a time when the Israelites must go to war in their own land against oppressive enemies, and in the instructions a promise is given—that God will remember the Israelites for sounding the trumpets in this manner and save them from their enemies. Significant prophetic implications happen to be present in these instructions for trumpets. The books of Joel and Zephaniah happen to exhibit the utilization of trumpets both with and without the sound of alarm. Understanding the instructions from Numbers 10 clearly reveals the context of the trumpets in Joel and Zephaniah so that the prophetic implications of the trumpets found therein stand out profoundly. First, examine the trumpets as they appear in Joel and Zephaniah with the sound of alarm. (Reader, be advised to examine verses surrounding those herein quoted for greater contextual understanding)

Blow ye the trumpet in Zion, and sound an alarm in my holy mountain: let all the inhabitants of the land tremble: for the day of the Lord cometh, for it is nigh at hand. Joel 2:1.

The great day of the Lord is near, it is near, and hasteth greatly, even the voice of the day of the Lord: the mighty man shall cry there bitterly. That day is a day of wrath, a day of trouble and distress, a day of wasteness and desolation, a day of darkness and gloominess, a day of clouds and thick darkness, A day of the trumpet and alarm against the fenced cities, and against the high towers. Zephaniah 1:14-16.

Regarding this approaching “day of the Lord”, Joel plainly exhibits the instructions found in Numbers 10 for blowing the trumpet with the sound of alarm. Zephaniah adds to this by revealing the identity of the oppressing enemy who enters the land because the trumpet and alarm sound “against the fenced cities and against the high towers.”

With the instructions from Numbers 10 in mind (that the trumpet sounds with an alarm when Israel goes to war with oppressors in their land), the context of these trumpets sounding for “the day of the Lord” becomes clear. That context happens to be that the oppressor whom Scripture characterizes as “fenced cities” and “high towers” enters into spiritual Israel’s “land” and gives spiritual Israel reason to blow the trumpet and sound the alarm so that God will remember them and save them from the enemy.

This context happens to be no context other than the entrance of a church-state unity and the Sunday law into the United States of America. Both Joel and Zephaniah prophetically display what spiritual Israel does during that “day of the Lord”. They blow the trumpet and sound the alarm against the union of church and state.

Besides this, Joel and Zephaniah prophetically show what spiritual Israel does prior to the arrival of that day and this action (on behalf of the spiritual Israelites) involves a trumpet sound as well.

Blow the trumpet in Zion, sanctify a fast, call a solemn assembly: Gather the people, sanctify the congregation, assemble the elders, gather the children, and those that suck the breasts: let the bridegroom go forth of his chamber, and the bride out of her closet. Joel 2:15,16.

Gather yourselves together, yea, gather together, O nation not desired; Before the decree bring forth, before the day pass as the chaff, before the fierce anger of the Lord come upon you, before the day of the Lord’s anger come upon you. Zephaniah 2:1,2.

The trumpet sounds without a sound of alarm in these verses to call the congregation together all in accordance with Numbers 10:7. The context of these verses from Joel and Zephaniah shows that Israel gathers together for a solemn assembly prior to “the day of the Lord” and before “the decree bring forth.” These instructions for the employment of trumpets found in Numbers 10 offer considerable insight to the trumpets found in the books of Joel and Zephaniah so that Bible students no longer need to wonder and potentially confuse the trumpets in Joel 2 and Zephaniah 1 with the other trumpets found in a different context of scripture.

THE CONTEXT OF THESE VERSES FROM JOEL AND ZEPHANIAH SHOWS THAT ISRAEL GATHERS TOGETHER FOR A SOLEMN ASSEMBLY PRIOR TO "THE DAY OF THE LORD AND BEFORE "THE DECREE BRING FORTH." THESE INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE EMPLOYMENT OF TRUMPETS FOUND IN NUMBERS 10 OFFER CONSIDERABLE INSIGHT...

PROPHETIC FRACTALS

By M. Chapman

Introduction

In October of 2014, Future for America's team decided to produce a chart that reflects our understanding of the fractal, that is, the “prophetic fractal.” This chart (like other charts) is subject to change; however, we do believe that it accurately reflects what we have come to understand at this time. This chart is available for free, as a PDF copy, on the DVD enclosed with this newsletter. You may also purchase a vinyl copy of the chart at: 888-278-7744 or online at: www.futureforamerica.org/quick-shop/.

For those unfamiliar with this topic, the following question should naturally arise: What is a fractal?

“A fractal is a natural phenomenon or a mathematical set that exhibits a repeating pattern that displays at every scale. If the replication is exactly the same at every scale, it is called a self-similar pattern. Fractals can also be nearly the same at different levels.” Wikipedia.

Interesting—the definition of a fractal is the very essence of the “line upon line” Biblical method of interpretation. We believe that each of the links in the great prophetic chain (the 3:1 combinations that make up each reformatory movement) are but fractions of the whole plan of redemption. Each link is not only similar to the whole, but also parallel to one another. This is a most fascinating phenomenon; however, the most mind-boggling aspect of this discovery is yet more intriguing—within each link can be seen little replications of the whole, and within each of those replications, more replications, and so on to infinity!

As a disclaimer: we do not assert to even begin to grasp the depths of this revelation, nor do we pretend that we can ever truly realize the infinite parallels that exist in this most sacred pattern. After all, we are dealing with Palmoni—the Wonderful Numberer—and who by searching can find out God?

Beginning at the top left corner of the chart and working our way down and to the right, we will briefly expound upon the information provided.

Wheels within Wheels

The phrase used for the title of this section might well be recognized from Ezekiel’s visions in chapters 1 and 10 of the book of Ezekiel. This seems to be the most explicit statement in Holy Writ outlining the structure of a fractal. Imagine a gyroscope (though this may be an imperfect representation of what Ezekiel actually saw; nevertheless, the image of a gyroscope is the most easily conveyed in this line of thought). The most common image of a gyroscope is of a large ring mounted to a stand containing two smaller rings, one within the other. In the center of the innermost ring is an axis with a disc mounted to it (however this part of the image is not so pertinent to the point). The idea that I wish to convey is that of the rings within rings. Each ring looks identical to the ring in which it sits, yet it is smaller. This is a self-similar fractal.

To give one more illustration (from nature) for the point of clarification let us look at the solar system. The sun is the center, and around it are the planets rotating (mostly in a counter-clockwise manner). Each ring of rotation gets smaller than the former as you travel inward, thus each ring is confined within the scope of a greater ring (they are as wheels within wheels).

Hopefully these two examples are clear, for they will set the stage for what I am about to explain.

Ezekiel is given a vision, and in this vision one of the primary components is these “wheel-like complications” which were directed by the hand beneath the wings of the cherubim. As we have discussed, these complicated wheels seem to be fractals—a representation of a self-similar pattern which is replicated at various intervals. However, the strength of this realization lies not with the physical scenes which were cascaded before the eyes of this ancient prophet by the river Chebar, but rather, the spiritual significance of these scenes recorded by the Spirit of Prophecy thousands of years later:

“The wheels were so complicated in arrangement that at first sight they appeared to be in confusion; but they moved in perfect harmony. Heavenly beings, sustained and guided by the hand beneath the wings of the cherubim, were impelling these wheels; above them, upon the sapphire throne, was the Eternal One; and round about the throne a rainbow, the emblem of divine mercy.

“As the wheellike complications were under the guidance of the hand beneath the wings of the cherubim, so the complicated play of human events is under divine control. Amidst the strife and tumult of nations, He that sitteth above the cherubim still guides the affairs of the earth.” Prophets and Kings, 535–536.

Sister White associates the wheels which Ezekiel saw with “the complicated play of human events.” This is all the more profound when we realize that fractals are not restricted to wheels, rings, and rotations, but they can be seen in everything in the universe, thus, in lines.

“There are those now living who, in studying the prophecies of Daniel and John, received great light from God as they passed over the ground where special prophecies were in process of fulfillment in their order. They bore the message of time to the people. The truth shone out clearly as the sun at noonday. Historical events, showing the direct fulfillment of prophecy, were set before the people, and the prophecy was seen to be a figurative delineation of events leading down to the close of this earth’s history. The scenes connected with the working of the man of sin are the last features plainly revealed in this earth’s history. The people now have a special message to give to the world, the third angel’s message.” Selected Messages, book 2, 102.

What again is the definition of delineate?

“To draw the lines which exhibit the form of a thing; to mark out with lines; to make a draught; to sketch or design; as, to delineate the form of the earth, or a diagram.” Webster’s 1828 Dictionary.

How would one delineate history and prophecy? Answer: by exhibiting the form of the thing (history/prophecy) in historical or prophetic timelines. So, “the complicated play of human events” is a delineation of historical/prophetic events which (if we understand this application of a fractal correctly) are governed by a pattern that was ordained by the one whose hand it is that guides the outcome of each and every event in history.

Here I will interject a quick example of a Generalized Cantor Set.

Take a line and divide it in half. Disregarding measurements, but focusing on the appearance of the line and its fragments, is not the half identical to the whole? Divide the half in half. Is not the quarter like unto the half as well as the whole? This is the concept of a Generalized Cantor Set.

To apply this concept to a timeline, especially a prophetic timeline which derives its significance from its divinely ordained pattern, is rather simple. We may not be dividing the line in halves, but if we take the whole and isolate different portions of it we can see—in a most remarkable way—a replica of the greater pattern.

This brings us to the next section.

A Three-Step Process

“The Everlasting Gospel [spoken of in Revelation 14] is the work of Christ in producing, and thereafter demonstrating, two classes of worshippers based upon a three step prophetic testing message.” Jeff Pippenger.

This is the pattern. This is the Everlasting Gospel. It can be seen in every representation of the prophetic chain, in every generation, in every prophecy, at every level of magnification, and even in the hearts and minds of every individual each moment of their lives—it is divine.

So what is it? It is the message of the hour. It is the message of the three angels. It is the method by which the Lord God Almighty—the Great I Am—chooses to save His wayward flocks. It is these things and more, but time escapes us.

Below is listed, in a table style format, some common examples of this holy, three-step prophetic testing pattern:

Revelation 14:6	Fear God	Give Glory	Judgment
John 16:8	Sin	Righteousness	Judgment
Daniel 12:10	Purified	Made White	Tried
Revelation 3:18	Gold	White Raiment	Eyesalve
John 14:6	Way	Truth	Life
The Sanctuary	Courtyard	Holy Place	Most Holy Place
Theology	Justification	Sanctification	Glorification
Revelation 17:14	Called	Chosen	Faithful

Aligning & Combining

The purpose of this next section is to rightly divide different lines of prophetic information and align them with one another according to their position in the three-step prophetic testing sequence. A benefit to viewing the prophetic pattern in this manner is that it becomes much easier to isolate and identify the specifications of the waymarks in question in relation to the level at which the three-step process is being viewed. For example: 8/11/1840 can be viewed as the first step in the Everlasting Gospel in two ways. In one line of thought, it precedes the first day of the first month (4/19/1844). In another line of thought, it precedes May of 1842. Both lines of thought share the same starting point, as well as the same event marking this starting point. The difference is the subject which is being addressed. In the first line we are viewing this history in the sense of the three angels and the work which they had to do from August of 1840 to October of 1844. In the second line we are viewing the three-step testing process of the Protestants which ended when the second angel arrived into history on the first day of the first month in the year 1844. Both thoughts convey a special significance for our own time, and both thoughts must be understood separately in order to rightly place them in this final reformation of the people of God.

Another important understanding derived from this section of the chart is the characteristics associated with each step of the three-step process. The first step is associated with the combination of Divinity with humanity, the second is always visual, and the third is when the door closes.

As proof, consider the illustration where 9/11 is the first step, the Sunday law is the second step, and Daniel 12:1 is the third step.

At 9/11 we are called to eat the little book; when a substance is consumed it is combined with the consumer. The little book is Divine; it is the flesh of our Lord and Savior. The one who consumes it is mortal, and thus here we see the combination of Divinity with humanity.

At the Sunday law, the false prophet will call down fire out of heaven (which is a spiritual representation of a marvelous work of healing and other manifestations of super natural power); this marvelous working of the devil is a visual test which the eleventh hour workers will be tested on.

Finally, when apostasy has reached its height and all who will be saved are settled into the truth intellectually and spiritually, the door to the Most Holy Place of the Sanctuary in Heaven will close. Here ends the mediation of Christ on behalf of mankind—this is Daniel 12:1 (the third step in this line of thought) and is easily identified as a closed door.

Internal & External Tests

Moving down to the illustration below the section that was just discussed, we come to another key which helps us in the use of fractals in Bible prophecy. In Uriah Smith's book Synopsis of the Present Truth, page 202, we are given a pioneer understanding of the seven seals and the seven churches:

“While the seven churches present the internal history of the church, the seven seals bring to view the great events of its external history.”

This serves as a valuable tool in our day. It broadens our understanding of this three-step process which is under way at this very moment. It allows us to see the political wheels being directed by the hand of the Lord in relation to the church in their proper light. It also allows us to view the events transpiring within the church in their proper light.

The little book which is in the hand of the angel of Revelation 18 (who comes down at 9/11) contains both the internal and the external events which are to test the people of earth.

“There in His open hand lay the book, the roll of the history of God's providences, the prophetic history of nations and the church. Herein was contained the divine utterances, His authority, His commandments, His laws, the whole symbolic counsel of the Eternal, and the history of all ruling powers in the nations. In symbolic language was contained in that roll the influence of every nation, tongue, and people from the beginning of earth's history to its close.” Manuscript Releases, volume 9, 7.

So at 9/11 we should be able to identify both the internal and the external providences of God, that is, His hand directing the wheels which intersect with such beautiful precision.

“In the annals of human history, the growth of nations, the rise and fall of empires, appear as if dependent on the will and prowess of man; the shaping of events seems, to a great degree, to be determined by his power, ambition, or caprice. But in the Word of God the curtain is drawn aside, and we behold, above, behind, and through all the play and counterplay of human interest and power and passions, the agencies of the All-merciful One, silently, patiently working out the counsels of His own will.” Prophets and Kings, 500.

The external events which affect the people of God are these: the activities of radical Islam, the setting up of the image of the beast (the combination of church and state where the church is in control of the relationship), and the passing of a national Sunday law in the United States.

The internal events of the church can be seen on two levels. The first is more of a generic level which denotes the whole of the three-step process which takes place from 9/11 to the national Sunday law. The second level is more specific; it deals with the three steps where both groups of believers (which are tested in the time of Adventism's visitation) must prove victorious.

For the purpose of brevity, we are only going to describe the first group of believers in the second level who are tested during the first part Adventism's visitation, beginning at 9/11 and ending at the Midnight Cry.

The first test is for those who were called since 9/11 and appointed to this time of trial (to be purified, made white, and tried). This is the test of spiritual appetite; will we eat the manna which God has provided?

The second test for this group of people is a visual test. It is the shaking which is caused by the rejection of the visual representation of the message according to Isaiah 28. We must have our senses exercised by reason of use and be apt to discern both good and evil in this time of shaking. If we do not see this separation, it is because we are spiritually blind and cannot see afar off, and we reject the only method of study ordained of God—line upon line.

The third test for this particular set of people is the Midnight Cry. At this point the foolish and the wise will be awoken. One class will find that they are ill prepared; the other will move on to know the Lord.

Self-Similar Magnifications

Now that we understand the definition of a fractal and have been given some other helpful tools to decipher the messages of God’s Spirit, we are better equipped to expound upon the concept of self-similar magnifications.

The idea is this: on a macroscopic view (a view encapsulating the whole of the plan of salvation) we believe that there must be seen a three-step process. Why? Simply because at every other level we see this pattern. When viewing the links within the great prophetic chain, we have come to understand that (for a lack of a better phrase) there are links within links. This thought has led to the idea that there could be a broader view of the whole chain, which very exactly resembles the individual links.

Take a moment to look at the chart provided on the disc which was sent out in this month’s newsletter. Look to the right hand column under the title “Self-Similar Magnifications.” There you will see a subtitle “Macroscopic View.” Below this subtitle is the following Bible verse:

Thy way, O God, is in the sanctuary: who is so great a God as our God? Psalms 77:13.

Are there not three doors that the High Priest must pass through before He enters the Most Holy Place?

The courtyard is where the Lamb was slain. Here the people of God worshiped for about four thousand years until Christ ascended unto His Father:

“When Jesus at his ascension entered by his own blood into the heavenly sanctuary to shed upon his disciples the blessings of his mediation, the Jews were left in total darkness, to continue their useless sacrifices and offerings. The ministration of types and shadows had ceased. That door by which men had formerly found access to God, was no longer open.” The Great Controversy, 430.

From that point forward, the work of the plan of salvation was carried forth in the Holy Place of the Heavenly Sanctuary. This work ceased on October 22, 1844:

“I was shown in vision, and I still believe, that there was a shut door in 1844. All who saw the light of the first and second angels’ messages and rejected that light, were left in darkness.” Selected Messages, book 1, 63.

Since 1844, the ministration of Christ has been carried forward in the Most Holy. The final door will shut when Michael stands up:

“When this time of trouble comes [Daniel 12:1], every case is decided; there is no longer probation, no longer mercy for the impenitent. The seal of the living God is upon His people.” Testimonies for the Church, volume 5, 212.

What we have just brought to view proves that there is indeed an original three-step process upon which the three steps we are familiar with are based. Each link in the chain fits into one of the three periods of time mentioned above, and are exact replications of the macroscopic view. Every replication of these links found embedded within themselves is but an even smaller representation of the whole. Confusing? It was to Ezekiel. That is why, my friends, we must entreat that the Lord will mercifully pour out His Spirit upon us, that we might hear and understand and be transformed into the brightness of His Glory.

The rest of the illustrations in this section are referenced the same way as the macroscopic view is—they each have a Bible verse or a quote from the Spirit of Prophecy which gives the student a point of reference as to why we are viewing the pattern at the specified level of magnification.

Non-Identical Fractals

A prophetic fractal is non-identical when the large scale representation of the Biblical subject conveys the same thought as the smaller representation, but the two representations are not interchangeable.

For instance, the 2520 year scattering (the 7 times) found in Leviticus 26 is a span of time, and in one representation of this span the 2520 begins in 677 BC and ends in 1844. This is the “large scale representation.” From 677 to 586 BC is a delineation of kings, four of which denote the progressive destruction of Jerusalem. This is the “smaller representation.” The fourfold progressive destruction is a parallel to the 2520, and it is also a portion (a fraction) of the greater picture. The four kings which denote the progressive destruction upon Jerusalem do not simply parallel the 2520 years in the sense of scattering. These kings—Manasseh, Jehoiakim, Jehoiachin, and Zedekiah—can be directly linked to the four places where the Hebrew word translated as “seven times” is used in Leviticus 26.

Conclusion

“The work of God in the earth presents, from age to age, a striking similarity in every great reformation or religious movement. The principles of God’s dealing with men are ever the same. The important movements of the present have their parallel in those of the past, and the experience of the church in former ages has lessons of great value for our own time.” The Great Controversy, 343.

I hope that all who have taken the time to read this explanation have been blessed with a little increase of knowledge on the subject of fractals and their role in prophecy. It is my earnest prayer that all of us will realize the solemnity of the hour and walk upright, according to the knowledge granted us by the Spirit of the Lord. We must realize that the Lord never changes, and that these patterns which have been mocked and written off as heretical are the very things ordained by God in ancient times for the salvation of our wretched souls. We would do well to heed the example of those who were tired in the wilderness by the fiery serpents, and look by faith upon the sacred leadings of the Lord in our past history and live! In closing, consider the following passage and how it applies to you in this most solemn time:

“A refining, purifying process is going on among the people of God, and the Lord of hosts has set his hand to this work [Ezekiel 1:8; 10:8]. This process is most trying to the soul, but it is necessary in order that defilement may be removed. Trials are essential in order that we may be brought close to our heavenly Father, in submission to his will, that we may offer unto the Lord an offering in righteousness. God’s work of refining and purifying the soul must go on until his servants are so humbled, so dead to self, that when called into active service, they may have an eye single to the glory of God. Then they will not move rashly from impulse, and imperil the Lord’s cause because they are slaves to temptation and passion, because they follow their carnal desires; but they will move from principle and in view of the glory of God. The Lord brings his children over the same ground again and again, increasing the pressure until perfect humility fills the mind, and the character is transformed; then they are victorious over self, and in harmony with Christ and the Spirit of heaven.” The Review and Herald, April 10, 1884.”
